University Group Says Teachers Have Right to Be Communists Under Law

Party Is Legal

Methodist College Under Fire for Dismissal of Wallace Supporters

Washington, July 11 (AP)—The American Association of University Professors (A.A.U.P.) upheld today the right of teachers to belong to the Communist Party.

It did so in the face of a National Education Association recommendation last week that Communists be barred from the teaching profession.

"So long as the Communist Party is a legal political party, affiliation with it should not be regarded as a justifiable reason for exclusion from the academic profession," the professors' statement said.

At the same time the A.A.U.P.—stirring echoes of Henry Wallace's try for the presidency last year—condemned an Evansville, Ind., Methodist College for firing a faculty member who headed a local Wallace Committee.

The A.A.U.P. Committee on Academic Freedom and Tenure, in its annual report published today, said five other teachers, in unspecified colleges, reported they were dismissed because of their support of Wallace.

The committee took no stand regarding these five, however, because they were serving probationary periods and had not yet achieved full status.

Furthermore, it said, the evidence they offered against the colleges was oral, hearsay or circumstantial. It did not identify them.

The A.A.U.P. is still studying the discharge of three University of Washington professors accused of Communist activities.

Through the committee, the association condemned the dismissal in April, 1948, of George F. Parker, assistant professor of religion and philosophy, at Evansville College.

Parker was fired two days after presiding at an Evansville meeting addressed by Wallace. Anti-Wallace pickets booed Wallace and Parker.

Ralph E. Hinstead, A.A.U.P. general secretary, told a reporter the college administration probably will be placed on the association's censure list at the next annual meeting in March, 1950.

Seven schools are now on the list. The list ensures the administrative officers and governing board only, and informs the public that "unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure" prevail. There is no reflection on the faculties or the schools generally.

The censure administrations still on the A.A.U.P. list, and the date of censuring.

Boat Explosion Kills Two, Biddles Escape

Rescue workers examine wreckage of cabin cruiser which exploded while taking on fuel at a Potomac River yacht club. Maj. Gen. Vernon B. Pritchard, army public information chief, and an unidentified man were killed, and others were injured, among them, Col. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel Biddle, Jr., of Philadelphia. They are shown leaving scene after narrow escape with minor injuries.

Gas Fumes Blamed For Cruiser Blast

Col. Biddle Courageous in Rescues, 10 Are Blown Overboard

Washington, July 11 (AP)—The general who headed the army's public relations and a retired navy officer were killed when a cabin cruiser exploded on the Potomac river yesterday.

The dead: Maj. Gen. Vernon B. Pritchard, 57, and Commodore Wilfred L. Painter, 41, U.S.N.R.

Navy Captain Sergius N. F. Loboshev and Johannes Johannesen, 40, steward at the fashionable Corinthian Yacht Club, were carried on hospital critical lists today.

Eyewitnesses credited Col. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, one of those aboard, with great personal courage.

Biddle, soldier, athlete and diplomat, told reporters the 50-foot cruiser Malcon was just pulling away from the yacht club dock on route down the Potomac when the explosion occurred.

"I was standing on the bow of the boat with my wife and Mrs. Pritchard," Biddle said. "We weren't more than two or three yards from the dock when we heard this huge explosion, and the three of us were shot into the river. There was a lot of debris and flame."

"I swam to my wife and brought her to the dock posts and then grabbed Mrs. Pritchard. Both of them were dazed, and I guess I was, too. Then I joined someone else in the water who said that General Pritchard had gone down. We dived under and I grabbed him just a few feet beneath the surface and pulled him to shore."

Harbor police theorized that gas fumes collected around the boat's engine during refueling, and exploded when the engine was started.

All of the ten persons aboard were hurled into the water. Most of them escaped with minor injuries.

Medical authorities said Pritchard was killed instantly. Coroner A. Magruder, MacDonald said there were no burns, no fractures and no visible cause of death.

Painter, who died in Casualty hospital, suffered a "compound fracture of the leg, the only outward signs of injuries."

Henry A. Dudley, Jr., Washington attorney, was host for what was planned as a picnic trip down the Potomac. The cruiser was owned by Bolling Powell, Jr., Dudley's law partner. He was not aboard.

Car Crashes Keep State Police Busy During Week-End

Three of Injured Taken to Vassar Hospital; Mrs. Hasbrouck Fractures Leg

State Police from the Highland station were kept busy over the week-end by a series of automobile accidents which sent three people to Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, with injuries. The rain on Sunday made roads slippery and resulted in traffic difficulty for some drivers.

Saturday at about 4:30 p. m. a Chevrolet sedan owned by Raymond Hasbrouck of Upper Main street, New Paltz, driven by his wife, Grace, age 60, was traveling south in Clintondale when it went out of control as the driver attempted to make a left turn. The car struck a concrete building and the front end was considerably damaged.

Mr. Hasbrouck suffered cuts and bruises of the face and a broken rib. Mrs. Hasbrouck also had cuts and bruises of the face and a possible fracture of the leg. They were attended by Dr. W. F. Rost of New Paltz and Mrs. Hasbrouck was taken to Vassar Hospital.

At 10:15 a. m. Sunday a Chrysler sedan operated by Fred Sender, 57, of New York skidded on the Mid-Hudson-Highland traffic circle road as the car was being driven west. The car struck a rock wall on the south side of the road and Mrs. Stella Sender, 55, wife of the operator, suffered a possible fractured left arm and was taken to Vassar Hospital.

Amy Cunningham, 20, of Ridge-wood, N. J., a passenger in the car of John D. Mulhane, 27, of 1025 Main avenue, Clifton, N. J., was treated at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, for a laceration of the knee and a bruise following an accident on Route 9-W a mile north of Highland Sunday afternoon.

The Chevrolet car of Mulhane, traveling south struck the rear of a Chevrolet car operated by Lawrence Giovanni, 26, of 17 Monroe street, Schenectady, also going south.

Will Head Music Post at Church

Donald R. Roome Is New Minister of Music at First Dutch

Donald R. Roome of Englewood, N. J., has accepted the position of minister of music at the First Dutch Reformed Church beginning September 1. He will replace Mrs. Raymond H. Rignall who has resigned the position because she will move to Arlington, Va., this summer.

Mr. Roome, who is an organist, choir director, and composer, has been choir master and organist at West Side Presbyterian Church, Englewood, since 1943. He received his bachelor of education degree from Rutgers University in 1942 and master of arts degree in music and composition from Columbia University. He studied choral training and organ with Otto Luening, Donald Winters and Walter Rencner.

While at Rutgers, he was a member of the Glee Club. At one time he supervised music in schools in New Jersey. He also has given private piano and organ lessons. At Englewood he directed the Neighborhood Glee Club, chorus of 50 male voices from cities throughout Bergen county.

He has had several original compositions published by C. Schirmer of New York, including a credo based on the Apostle's Creed which was presented a number of times this past Easter season. At present he is working on a number of compositions including a series of choral settings for four parts.

At the Englewood church Mr. Roome directed three choirs, junior, high school and adult groups. He will have full charge of the choir program at the local church which includes six choirs and will play the organ. Miss Caroline Little will continue as assistant organist. Mr. Roome will live at the church house.

2 House Members Plan Demands for Formal Probe

Washington, July 11 (AP)—Two House Republicans apparently are working up to formal demands for an investigation of Judge Samuel H. Kaufman's handling of the Alger Hiss perjury trial.

Reps. Velde (R-Ill.) and Nixon (R-Calif.) are getting ready to back up complaints against Kaufman— they say he favored the Hiss defense — with speeches on the House floor. And the two, partners on the House Un-American Activities Committee, may go farther.

Nixon definitely wants an investigation and aides say he will fight to get one. Velde will back Nixon.

An old-fashioned political scrap could result that would give a new twist to the celebrated Hiss-Chambers case—a case that so far has featured charges of espionage and perjury.

"Democrats have shown few signs of letting the two young members of the House Un-American Activities Committee get an investigation started. And they would have to have some Democratic help."

His First Big Case

Kaufman is a Democrat appointed by President Truman. He is a Federal District Judge in the Southern New York District. The Hiss case was his first big one.

Hiss, once a high official in the State Department, was tried on charges he lied in saying he did not know former Communist Espionage Agent Whittaker Chambers as late as 1938 and never gave Chambers secret documents.

A new trial is necessary because the jury couldn't agree on a verdict. Eight jurors wanted to convict Hiss. Four wanted to acquit him. All of them quit trying for an agreement Friday night.

Then there was a rush of statements over the week-end.

Cites Politics

Nixon said Kaufman had been unfair and there should be an investigation. He said politics figured in the trial, that the Truman administration didn't want anything bad to happen to Hiss because it feared there would be support for reports of Communist infiltration of the government during the New Deal.

As a member of the Un-American Activities Committee last year, Nixon had more of a hand than any other member in developing the Hiss-Chambers case and steering it through a series of spectacular hearings.

Velde, a newcomer to the committee this year, followed up with a statement saying Judge Kaufman showed "a marked bias for the defense that, to say the least, bordered on judicial misconduct."

Obviously, he said, an inquiry into Kaufman's conduct of the case "cannot be sidestepped."

But Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) of the Un-American Activities Committee made it pretty plain that he was going to have no part of any such investigation. Besides, he said, the judiciary committee is the proper committee to investigate judges.

Won't Take Action

The only active Republican on the Un-American Activities Committee besides Nixon and Velde wasn't committing himself to an investigation. Rep. Francis Case (R-S.D.) said he isn't a lawyer.

Patrolman Exam Off Until August

The civil service examination to establish an eligible list for local patrolmen scheduled for today has been postponed until next month, Russell Howard, secretary of the local civil service board, announced today. The date in August will be announced later.

An eligible list to fill whatever vacancy may be determined in the department already exists, and the examination is to provide another list when the present one expires.

Howard said he has notified by letter all those who have applied to take the examination of the postponement, and they will be informed later when the examination is to be held next month.

Britain, Canada, U. S. Try Solving Dollar Crisis

Washington Conference Is Slated in September; World Trade Key to Problem

London, July 11 (AP)—Britain hopes to find a solution to her dollar problem by September.

That is the upshot of a three-day closed-door conference here between United States Treasury Secretary John Snyder, British Economic Chief Sir Stafford Cripps and Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott.

Before Snyder left for Brussels on the next stage of his European tour, the three issued a joint communiqué. It promised fact-finding discussions right away and more ministerial talks in Washington in September.

"The aim," it said, "must be the achievement of a pattern of world trade in which dollar and non-dollar countries can operate together within one single multilateral system."

The men met at the end of a week which saw Cripps tell Britain her dollar and gold reserves had sunk almost $400,000,000 below the $2,000,000,000 danger line, and order a three-month moratorium on all but urgent dollar purchases.

The communiqué emphasized that "remedies (for Britain's plight) other than financial assistance such as that provided by the United States and Canada must be explored."

"No suggestion was made that Sterling be devalued," the statement said. Cutting the value of the pound in order to make British goods cheaper in terms of dollars has been widely recommended in the U. S. to help Britain out of her plight.

It urged all countries concerned to review their policies to obtain a wider, many-sided trade. Britain, running out of dollars, has been making exclusive barter deals with countries like

Handbag Stolen At Lake Picnic

While Mrs. Howard Stephens of 158 Ten Broeck avenue, Kingston, was picnicking at DeWitt Lake Saturday evening with members of her family, someone stole a handbag containing $50 and personal papers. The bag was recovered not far from the picnic grounds.

After holding a picnic supper on the eastern shore of the lake, the party went to the water edge and while there heard a couple of young boys run from the vicinity of the picnic table where Mrs. Stephens had left her hand bag. Investigating they found the handbag and a package of rolls missing.

The theft was reported to Sheriff George Smith and County Investigator Clayton W. Vredenburg was assigned to make an inspection. Sunday morning the pocketbook and the empty roll package were found in the woods a short distance from the lake. Only the cash was missing from the pocketbook.

There have been other complaints of small sums of money being stolen from guests in the area.

President Reverses His Stand

Report to Congress Calls for More Production, Farm, Social Aid and Public Works Plan

Crisis Not Near

Economic Advisers Are Optimistic but Say Federal Action Needed

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, July 11 (AP)—President Truman today cancelled his call for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase. He bowed to a temporary deficit spending policy to head off any depression.

"No major increase in taxes should be undertaken at this time," were the President's words. Also: "We cannot expect to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy."

In a stunning reversal of his stand, Mr. Truman sent to Congress a midyear economic report wiping clean of his past demands for price, wage or other business controls.

Instead — stating that unemployment is acute in some areas — he proposed 11 new laws to build up jobs and production, boost consumer income and buying power, and loosen Federal lending.

All the ideas were familiar. Most were not drastic. They included public works planning, but not more public works; the Brannan farm plan; expansion of social security and jobless pay; extended G. I. benefits.

Economy Still Strong

Crisis action isn't needed, Mr. Truman said, because the economy still is strong and healthy. It can hit soaring annual output of "well above $300,000,000,000" in a few years, he predicted. That is one-fifth higher than today's national production.

"But there is nothing healthy about more unemployment or less production," Congress was told. "Such trends can and must be reversed by positive action, private and public."

"Our own people insist upon the maintenance of prosperity, and will not tolerate a depression."

The President's council of economic advisers, in an accompanying report, was somewhat more optimistic in general tone than Mr. Truman. It found the business outlook reassuring. But agreed that federal action is called for.

"We may have the unique and fortunate experience of liquidating a major inflation without falling into a severe recession," the three-member council reported.

In a sentence certain to win the acclaim of business, Mr. Truman took his stand against any major increase in taxes.

Only estate and gift tax rates should be raised, he said. He added that the transportation tax on goods should be wiped out and the "carry-over" of losses in corporation taxes should be liberalized.

The expected results: (A) Better profit prospects for industry. (Continued on Page 14, Col. 5)

Oneonta Chosen

State Will Build Diagnostic Laboratory for Poultry Diseases There

Ithaca, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—Oneonta has been chosen as the site of a $25,000 poultry disease diagnostic laboratory.

The State College of Agriculture said yesterday that the lab, fourth in the state, would be built with funds provided by the 1949 legislature.

Announcement of Oneonta's selection was made by a special committee comprising Dean W. L. Meyers of the College of Agriculture; Prof. J. H. Bruckner, head of the Poultry Department; and Dean W. A. Hagan and Dr. P. P. Levine of the Veterinary College.

Bruckner and Levine conducted hearings throughout the state to determine where the facility was most needed.

Between 20,000 and 35,000 birds a year will be handled by the new laboratory, the committee estimates.

All Over, They Say

Taft-Hartley Action Done Until Primaries or 1951 Congress Meets

Washington, July 11 (AP)—Several Congressmen said today the Taft-Hartley repeal battle on Capitol Hill is over for this year unless President Truman orders otherwise.

The Congressmen, members of the House Committee who did not want to be identified by name, said the issue may stay on ice until primary election time draws near next spring, or until the next Congress comes to town in January, 1951.

Their prediction was contrary to a statement last week by one House leader, Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.). He said he expects to see the House make another try at repealing the Republican-authored and union-hated labor law passed two years ago.

Two Auto Crashes Injure 4 Persons

Police Say None Involved in Sunday Crashes Seriously Hurt

Four persons were injured slightly in two auto collisions in the city Sunday, according to the police.

In the first, reported at 12:05 p. m., at Wurts and Spring streets, Mrs. Anna Hermance, 53, of 19 Stephan street, suffered head and chest injuries and was treated at Kingston Hospital.

Ethel Amiel, 34, of 25 Central Park West, the report said, "received medical treatment," and the extent of injuries was not reported.

Mrs. Hermance was riding in a car operated by Zach Hermance of the same address and headed north on Wurts street, and the other woman was riding with Jack J. Amiel, of New York, who was traveling in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Hermance was taken to the hospital in a W. N. Conner ambulance, and was treated and discharged.

Officers Peter Camp and Leonard Ellsworth, who investigated, said that both cars were damaged in the front.

The other mishap reported at 12:10 p. m., was at Albany and North Manor avenues and resulted in injuries to Bertha Boyd, 38, and Dale Boyd, 5, of Pennsville, N. J. The former suffered injuries of the right arm and side and the latter injuries of the right ear and cheek. They were treated by a doctor.

Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., who investigated, said that William D. Arnold, 175 North Manor avenue, was headed out of Manor avenue and turning left into Albany avenue when his car was in collision with a coupe owned and operated by Phillip L. Boyd, 37, of Pennsville, who was traveling south on Albany avenue.

The Arnold auto was damaged on its front and the Boyd car on its right rear, the report said.

Milk Co-ops Work On Price Formula

Production Costs, Profits Basis for Helping 12,000 Dairymen

Syracuse, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—A producer milk pricing formula based solely on production costs and a "reasonable profit" will be developed soon by two major milk cooperatives.

They are the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative and the Mutual Cooperative of Independent Producers. The organizations claim to represent 12,000 dairy farmers in the six-state New York milkshed.

Spokesmen said yesterday the cooperatives had joined forces to work out a formula for submission at a federal-state market order hearing, slated for this summer.

The price paid producers for class I-A (fluid) milk in the metropolitan New York milkshed now is pegged on the Boston market price. This system was to have expired July 1, but the U. S. Agriculture Department ordered it continued for the rest of 1949. The department said it would hold a hearing this summer on new formula proposals.

R. P. Kinney of Amenia, Eastern Producers president, and Kenneth A. Shaul of Cobleskill, Mutual Cooperative chief, invited other dairy groups to join in their formula-drafting program.

They said the milkshed "has been saddled with formulas that ignore profits and do not even assure costs."

They contended that "further postponement of this plan will only spell a gradual collapse of the dairy industry."

The Eastern-Mutual proposal will be the third offered as a replacement for the existing, non-operative formula in which the fluid milk price is based on butter and powdered milk prices.

A formula proposed by an industry committee, appointed by Charles J. Blanford, federal marketing administrator for metropolitan New York, would make the U. S. Labor Department's in-

Truman's Move To Perk Economy Pleases Nation

By HARRY T. MONTGOMERY
Associated Press
General Business Editor

New York, July 11 (AP)—There was encouragement for industry, for labor, and for the public at large in President Truman's economic report to the nation today.

Warning signals were hoisted for all to heed; but the overall picture as outlined by the President with the aid of his economic advisers was not a gloomy one.

In general, the President reversed his field and admitted what nearly all the rest of the country has been saying for several months. That business conditions are downward and that steps should be taken to halt the decline.

The President remains, however, a leading optimist. For business and industry perhaps the greatest cheer was the President's own abandonment of his January call for a four billion dollar tax increase.

Actually, industry's fear of such a tax increase did not long after the January program was laid before Congress. As the economic downturn progressed, it had become clear that Congress would not approve the big tax boost.

However, until today the President's official position had favored it, and this had remained a somewhat threatening sword over business. With today's message, the President and industry see eye-to-eye on the general business tax problem. That is, no major increases should be undertaken in a declining economy and, in fact, some business taxes should be lowered.

For labor there was cheer and support in the President's declaration that the purchasing power of workers must be maintained, and that, although prices should come down, they should not be cut by lowering wages. The President said current wages must "stand at least be maintained."

For workers too, especially those in the areas of most sharply rising unemployment, there was comfort in the President's call for higher and expanded unemployment benefits, and in his acknowledgment that unemployment is serious in many localities.

For the coming public, which is all of us, there was encouragement in the President's estimate of the overall situation. That inflation is checked, but that the economic decline so far has been moderate; that general business conditions, though slowing, are still good, with high production and high employment.

The President pointed out that real earnings have been maintained during the decline—that although incomes have slackened off, the cost-of-living has declined about in proportion, and as a nation we are not yet pinched.

The public generally will agree with the President that positive steps should be taken to enlarge consumers' purchasing power. It was cheered by his call for lower prices.

Within the generally optimistic framework of the President's address there were areas for disagreement among the various segments of our country.

Some businessmen wondered how they could carry out the President's advice to lower prices without cutting wages. He said maintaining volume is more important than maintaining profit margins.

Labor, increasingly strike-minded in recent weeks, was reminded that industry-wide strikes would not only cut incomes of strikers but would darken the whole business outlook at this time by cutting down production.

For all of us there was encouragement in the President's assertion that it is not necessary now to take such steps as might be necessary in a serious economic emergency; but there also was a warning that something must be done now as the economy slips downward.

Executed Man's Brother Is Held

Freehold, N. J., July 11 (AP)—Peter Dunn, brother of a man who was executed last week for killing a boss stevedore, is being held here for questioning by New York authorities probing waterfront crime, police said.

Dunn, 36, a resident of 300 West 49th street, New York, is a brother of John M. Dunn, of Queens, N. Y., who went to electric chair at Sing Sing Thursday for the murder of Anthony Hinz on Jan. 7, 1947.

Andrew Sheridan of New York was executed with Dunn, while Daniel Gentile, a third man convicted in the slaying had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment at the last minute.

Police Sgt. Theodore Loder of Keansburg said Dunn was arrested last night for violating a municipal ordinance requiring convicted criminals to register. Police said he had a record of arrests for assault and battery and rape in New York.

Magistrate William A. N. Haag sentenced him to 90 days in the Monmouth county jail on the registration charge.

Loder said any New York police who wish to talk with Dunn will be welcome at the jail.

Loder quoted Dunn as saying he had left New York to avoid "any pathy calls." He said he came to Keansburg because he had once worked at the naval pier at nearby Leonardo and knew the area.

Loder said he received an anonymous tip that Dunn was in town and followed him for 24 hours starting late Saturday.

Dunn registered at a hotel under his own name during that time, Loder said.

Arrested with Dunn was Lawrence Cortes, 39, a bartender of 239 Boyd avenue, Jersey City. He was sentenced 30 days for aiding and abetting Dunn in violation of the registration ordinance.

WHAT PRICE CHILDREN?

The Summer crowds are out again on every highway, seeking fun. They head for lake and shore and glen in quest of joy beneath the sun.

The cars go by in endless lines. And speeding seems to be the style. . . . To little heed is paid to signs. We view at every passing mile.

Our children run at daily play. And should some little child forget. . . . A life is such a price to pay. For speed that you may well regret.

You have a duty. . . . So have I. Always to drive with greatest care. . . . Childhood is something gold can't buy. Safety is something all must share.

Drive with the caution you would use. If told at play were yours, my love. . . . I'll do the same. Let's both agree. To chance that precious lives might end.

Sunday Rainfall Less Than July 4, Is Report

Sunday's rainfall while enough to dampen the ground, was not as heavy as that of July 4, the city engineer's office reported today.

The rain yesterday was only .36 of an inch while that of the holiday was .78 of an inch, and those two figures represent the total to date this month.

This is considerably higher than the rainfall for all of June, however, for in that month only .33 of an inch fell. The rainfall for May was slightly more than four inches, and the total from the end of that month to date is far below normal for the region.

Hard on Foreigners

Shanghai, July 11 (AP)—A Communist newspaper used the case of a jailed U. S. vice consul to lay down a warning to foreigners in Red China. The American, William M. Olive, 32, Ironton, Mo., was released Saturday after three days imprisonment growing out of a minor traffic altercation.

U. S. Consul General John Cabot said Olive was "utterly, brutally beaten" by Communist police.

Declares Emergency

London, July 11 (AP)—King George VI proclaimed a state of emergency today to deal with a crippling strike on the London docks. The King acted on the recommendation of the cabinet after wildcat dock strikers defied a back to work-call by the Labor government.

A mass meeting of 5,000 dockers had voted earlier to continue their stoppage.

To Aid Refugees

Frankfurt, Germany, July 11 (AP)—A group of anti-Communist Germans who fled the Russian zone have organized to help needy fellow refugees and work for reunification of all Germany. The group's leaders, however, denied published reports that they plan to set up a "government in exile" for the Russian zone.

Call for Union

Baguio, Philippines, July 11 (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek tonight called for a union of the countries of Asia and the Pacific to "contain and counteract" the threat of Communism.

Standing Pat

New York, July 11 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer today insisted he is adhering to his decision not to seek a second term.

Library Meeting

A meeting of the officers and trustees of the Port Ewen Library Association will be held tonight at the library.

Twin Handicaps

Sydney, Australia, (AP)—D. Copper, a schoolteacher, carried his twin sons in his arms to victory recently in a novelty event at Bridgport, Tasmania, Australia. A condition of the footrace was that each parent should carry his youngest child in his arms. Obeying the rule to the letter, Copper overcame a double handicap with several yards to spare.

Clergymen to Confer On Church Struggle

Chichester, Eng., July 11 (AP)—World churchmen are slated to go into secret session today on the church-state conflict in eastern Europe.

The clergymen of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, which came into being last summer in Amsterdam, had before them, at their meeting here:

1. A warning by their general secretary, Holland's Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, that the world church must "stand squarely" for freedom.

2. A summons by the chairman of the Central Committee, the Anglican Bishop of Chichester, Dr. George Kennedy, Bait to strengthen their lines of communication with church groups sealed off behind the "iron curtain."

Dr. Joseph L. Hropadka, of the Church of Czech Brethren, is expected to report on the church-state struggle throughout eastern Europe today or tomorrow.

Many churchmen at the conference consider Czechoslovakia a "test tube" for observing the progress of church attempts to find a mode of living with Communist governments.

Visitor Declares Archbishop Kept Prisoner by Police

Prague, July 11 (AP)—A visitor to the palace of Archbishop Josef Beran said yesterday the Roman Catholic primate of Czechoslovakia is kept under lock and key by police.

The visitor, a high church leader, said restrictions imposed on the archbishop by the Communist government were so severe that the archbishop's residence is like a cage.

"A plainclothesman unlocks the door to let you in and locks it upon the archbishop when you leave," he said.

The leader of the church's struggle against government control has not left his closely-guarded palace since June 19, the day Communist hecklers broke up his sermon in St. Vitus Cathedral.

Archbishop Beran described himself in his last pastoral letter as a semi-captive. The government says, however, that he is free to leave his palace.

The church leader who visited him said the archbishop intends to remain in the palace as a "gesture of protest against the government actions against the church."

"If he left he undoubtedly would be locked out and this symbol of protest would be lost," the churchman added. He said the 60-year-old primate is in good health and his spirit is unbroken.

The official Communist party newspaper, Rude Pravo, repeated government statements that there are no restrictions on religious freedom in Czechoslovakia.

The newspaper asserted the primate and his bishops had "evoked a conflict and declared war upon the people's democratic government."

10 Per Cent Cut

Washington, July 11 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved a 10 per cent cut in funds for the European Recovery Program, a member said today.

The senator, who asked that identification be withheld, reported the group agreed to $3,778,380,000 to finance continued Marshall Plan operations. The approved cut totaled $420,620,000 which will come from the Economic Cooperation Administration's proposed budget for recovery operations during the fiscal year which started July 1.

Clarke Attacks Monopoly

Washington, July 11 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark today attacked concentration of economic power in the hands of a few. He hinted that business "bigness" might in itself be a target of monopoly suspicion.

Clarke was the first witness before a House Judiciary subcommittee which began a three weeks preliminary investigation of the growth of monopoly in the United States.

The Joiners

All meetings of Colonial Rebekah Lodge have been suspended for July and August.

A regular meeting of Vanderlyn Council, 41, Daughters of America will be held Tuesday at Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street, at 8 p. m. Installation of officers will take place. All officers are requested to wear long white dresses.

About the Folks

Mrs. Louis M. Ellenbogen of 64 Broadway is recuperating from a recent operation at Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. Helen Otto who recently underwent an operation at the Benedictine Hospital is recuperating at the home of her son, Raymond Otto, 15 Hasbrouck Place.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 11 (AP)—Prices barely stirred in today's stock market.

A wide range of leading stocks remained at Friday's closing levels or saw-sawed between the plus and minus columns. Elsewhere fractional gains and losses were pretty evenly matched.

There was no immediate market response to the President's mid-year economic report to Congress. First comment indicated that Wall Street found at least few encouraging angles to the President's statements on the condition of the nation.

Only a moderate amount of business was done from the opening bell onward. Several large blocks of stock sold, which helped to swell turnover.

Nickel Plate Railroad, often a volatile stock, was one of the few issues to step out of the narrow price range. Sales were made at 63 down 3 points.

Guantanamo Sugar Preferred jumped 3 points to 99 following word the company planned to ask for tenders of the stock at a price not to exceed 100.

Sunday Rain Helps Break Drouth in Eight-State Area

(By The Associated Press)

The first real rain in 40 days hit the northeastern states Sunday and the weatherman said it may have broken the back of the drouth in some areas.

The steady, all-day rainfall fell on a parched eight-state area extending from Maine to New Jersey. Some regions reported almost an inch and a half of precipitation, others scarcely a trace.

In western New York's rich "muckland" farm regions and in the fertile Connecticut river valley, experts said the long, ravaging drouth might be at an end.

In New Jersey, where crop damage stands at an estimated $31,000,000, the weatherman wrote the drouth off the books, but farmers said they needed still more rain.

The consensus throughout the region was that the rain probably saved crops that would have been doomed by just a few more days of dry weather.

But, most farm experts agreed, two more days of steady rainfall was needed to bring back the dried-up farm and pasture lands.

Rain was general throughout New York state, but heaviest in western New York, where drouth conditions were reported broken.

State Agriculture Department agents said the situation also was alleviated in the eastern part of the state.

In New York city, a steady drizzle brought only .15 inches of rain, and the weatherman would not say that the drouth was at an end.

On Long Island, where millions of dollars in potatoes and truck crops have been lost, only a slight rain fell.

Through the southern Hudson valley, farmers said the rain was helpful and might pull through late crops.

Troopers Arrest Five In Shandaken Craps Raid

A craps game at the Pan-American Hotel at Shandaken was raided Saturday afternoon by Sergeant A. A. Reilly, Troopers H. Rasmussen and Ray Dunn and five of the participants were arrested on gambling charges and on being arraigned before Justice of the Peace William C. Weyman at Phoenixia $10 fines were paid.

The justice imposed 10 day jail sentences on the five.

Four of the men arrested were guests at the hotel and the fifth was a waiter. On the floor at the time the troopers entered was $7 in cash which was seized and turned over to the county treasurer.

Obstructed Driveway
Casimir Krukowski, 28, of 50 Hanratty street, Kingston, was arrested at Connelly by Deputy Sheriff William Frost and Arthur

Smith on a charge of obstructing a public driveway. Taken before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver of Esopus a $5 fine or 5 days in jail was imposed. The fine was paid.

Car Crashes Keep

south. Both cars were damaged the troopers reported.

Joseph Schopinsky, 50, of Maple avenue, Highland, escaped with a laceration of the left hand when his Ford car traveling east on Maple avenue went out of control about 2:30 a. m. Sunday, went down an embankment and overturned on River road. The car was considerably damaged.

Sunday morning about 10:15 o'clock the brakes on a Mercury sedan owned by Henry Halstead, 28, of Western avenue, Marlborough, released and the car parked on route 9-W headed north ran down a grade and struck the left rear of the Chrysler sedan of Edward F. Szwedek of 41 McKenna avenue, East Rutherford, N. J. The car was operated by Julius Sudyka, 39, of the same address East Rutherford, N. J. There were no injuries and no arrest.

At 8 a. m. Sunday a two car accident on route 9-W a half mile north of Highland again called the troopers out. A Buick coupe of George B. Woodin, 35, of Academy street, Poughkeepsie, traveling south was struck by a Autocar tractor-trailer owned by Maviani Brothers of Albany State Troopers who investigated reported the accident happened a half mile north of Highland while the tractor-trailer was attempting to pass the passenger car. The driver of the passenger car had fallen asleep and ran to the east of the highway just as the truck came along, the investigation officers reported. The coupe was damaged and Woodin received minor lacerations of the left forehead. There was no arrest.

Says Dad's Air Force Leads All in World

Moscow, July 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin's son, Vasily, a lieutenant-general at 29, boasted yesterday the Red air force was "invincible."

In a newspaper article broadcast by Moscow radio, said Stalin laid the foundations of aviation science, progressing from the first helicopter in the world to the present high speed jet planes. There is not a Russian plane, he said, in which his father's instructions are not embodied. He gave Russian aviators credit as the first to "put out the lights of Berlin." Soviet aircraft designers "are marching ahead of world science," he claimed, and Soviet pilots "fly further, higher and swifter than any."

The article was published and broadcast in connection with Russia's Aviation Day, to be celebrated soon.

Held for Assault

Brandon Kelly, 38, of Bloomington was arrested on a charge of assault, third degree, and held in the county jail for a hearing today at 2 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Edward Ippolito. Sheriff George Smith was notified by a neighbor that a man was beating children. Deputy Sheriffs Arthur Smith and William Frost answered the call and placed Kelly under arrest on a charge of assaulting his own children.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Osa Johnson, the first lady of the jungle, lives on Park avenue now—and it makes her homesick for the serenity of Africa.

"I like my jungles because I don't have any competition there," she laughed.

"Here you get invited to dinner and right away you start worrying. 'What shall I wear and what will so-and-so wear?'"

"But there I can wear khaki trousers and hunting boots and put my little gun on my shoulder and go out into the jungle and feel I am queen of all I survey. I can look up at the blue, blue sky and feel all Africa is mine."

She said she was going back too, for one last trek to the land whose wild life was filmed by her explorer husband, Martin Johnson, as she stood guard with a gun. Johnson was killed in a plane crash in California in 1937, and Osa was badly injured.

Has Secret Valley

"I have a secret valley," she said. "I can't tell you where it is. It has never been explored, but Martin and I always vowed we would go back. It's teeming with big game—lions, rhinos, elephants, buffalo—everything. There must be at least a million head of big game in that valley."

She is planning an expedition consisting of two station wagons, six jeeps with trailers, and a helicopter.

"I can flutter over in the helicopter and tickle the backs of elephants and ostriches. You should see the ostriches fan themselves with their plumes as they run. They make Sally Rand look like a sissy."

"I want to make a full length color film of wild life there. It's never been done."

Animals in zoos are out of their environment. They lose their color and become wishy-washy. But a wild zebra—he looks like black and white satin, sleek and fat and glossy. And the giraffe—he's a gorgeous bronze. He glitters in the sun."

Osa has kept busy since her husband's death. She has published nine books and is now waiting four more for children.

based on the life stories of her own animal pets. She is also completing a cookbook of exotic recipes, preparing for a lecture tour and negotiating a television contract. She has a library of 2,000,000 feet of film taken by her husband on their travels.

Still Energetic

Now 55, Osa is still as vivacious and energetic as the day she married Johnson at 16.

"I thought we'd live in Chautauque, Kas., and grow a couple of kids and a vegetable garden," she said. "But Martin had an itchy foot. So I went off to the jungle with him, and I fell in love with it, too."

She estimates she has traveled "roughly 1,500,000 miles" in her career.

"We did pretty well for a couple of kids who started from nothing," she smiled.

Her six-room apartment overflows with souvenirs from her journeys. She writes at night under a shelf on which stands nine carved wooden heads from the Belgian Congo.

"They give me inspiration," she said.

The apartment walls are painted with African scenes against a background of soft blue.

"There is a certain blue haze about the African hills you find nowhere else," she said. "The English who live there never say, 'I'm going out on safari.' They say, 'I'm going out into the blue.'"

"I wanted that blue on my walls. But it took me 27 paint jobs to get it."

Osa's favorite hobbies are fishing and cooking, and she spends a lot of time in her kitchen. "I'll bet you," she said, "I'm the only girl on Park avenue who bakes her own bread."

Third Plane Forced Back

New York, July 11 (AP)—Engine trouble has forced another ocean-hopping Pan American strato-crusier back to land. A strato-cruiser bound for Bermuda turned back and landed at Idlewild Field yesterday after a super in its right outboard motor failed to operate promptly. It was the third such incident for Pan American in four days.

EYE-OPENERS—For the first time in Italy's history, American-type pickets appear on the streets. They are protesting the second congress of the World Federation of Trade Unions in Milan. The signs read, "Workers, open your eyes! The WFTU is a Soviet center." Hired by anti-Communist, the pickets paraded in Piazza Duomo as delegates from 74 nations opened the Communist-dominated meeting.

Still Another Dispute

New York, July 11 (AP)—Some 1,500 A.F.L. bakery drivers have voted to end a dispute that shut down the city's biggest bakeries for 19 weeks. But, they said, they will not go back to their jobs until another dispute, which affects A.F.L. bakers in their plants, is settled.

The drivers, members of Local 550 of the A.F.L. Teamsters Union, voted last night to accept a settlement formula that is based on a $5 weekly pay increase. Joseph Clark, head of the local, said the drivers will picket the bakeries until the companies settle a contract dispute which took 2,300 A.F.L. bakers off their jobs.

Voice Uses Morse Code

New York, July 11 (AP)—The Voice of America is using Morse code in an attempt to filter its news programs through the Soviet air wave blockade. State Department officials think it is harder for the Russians to "jam" Morse code than voice broadcasts. The code, they say, sends a more penetrating signal.

LOOK AT THE MIRACLES THE WONDERTUB MAKES POSSIBLE!

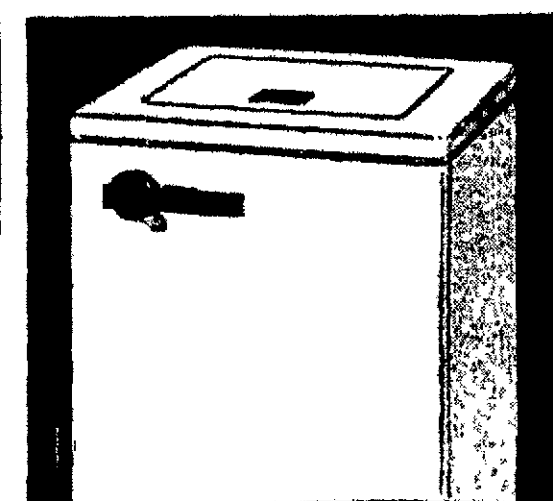

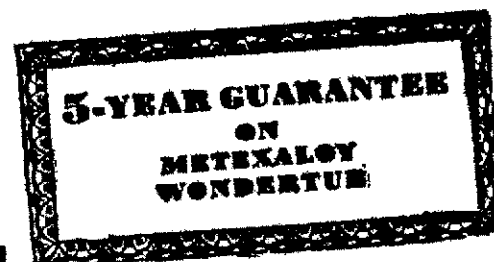

UNDERTOW WASHING ACTION! Wondertub's dynamic shape combines with the trusty agitator to give you a new kind of washing action. Clothes and suds are pulled down into undertow currents. Dirt comes out like magic! Whites are whiter, colors brighter—you'll be delighted with Undertow Washing Action.

FLOATAWAY DRAINAGE! Floating suds trap dirt. Then the Wondertub automatically closes in. Dirty suds are pushed up—then down the hollow agitator they float! Sand, and other heavy sediment is flushed out through the bottom of the tub. Dirty water never strains back through clothes! Clothes come out clean.

SQUEEZE-DRYING! The Wondertub then gently but firmly hugs the clothes—squeeze-ee-eezes out water! No wringer! No high-speed spinning! Just even, constant, vacuum pressure to bring your clothes out damp-dry in a jiffy! No deep-set wrinkles that are so hard to iron out! No tangling! No broken buttons!

'Birthday Gift' on Local Station Tonight

"Birthday Gift," latest program in the new radio series, Stories to Remember, will be heard tonight over Station WKNY at 8:30 p. m. with Hugh Marlowe, noted actor, starring. "Birthday Gift" is the story of a child whose parents make him conscious of the difference in color between himself and his playmate but who finds a child's straight-forward way of remaining friendly. The radio play, adapted from a story by B. J. Chute which originally appeared in the magazine, Woman's Home Companion, was directed by Earle McGill and produced by the Institute for Democratic Education as another program in the series of adaptations of well-known short stories dealing with the problems of intergroup tensions. Locally it is sponsored by the Kingston Lodge of B'nai B'rith, Kingston Lions and Y.W.C.A.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE.

Question: Which is the more dangerous, a hooded cobra or an actor?

Answer: An actor. And if anyone is inclined to argue the point, I'd like to submit the following as evidence...

A dippy decade ago, Eleanor and I spent a summer at Deal, New Jersey, and every Friday afternoon we would go shopping for week-end vittles at the not-so-super market run by Salvatore Padulla, a three-bellied Sicilian who, to hear the year-rounders tell it, was the stingiest man between Sandy Hook and Cape May.

One afternoon, while Eleanor was assembling the makings for a cold buffet, I went to the fish counter in quest of half a dozen flounders "fresh off the morning's run," and there I met an actor named Seymour Spencer who had rented a bungalow on the beach for the season. He was inspecting a brace of lobsters and, out of the corner of my ear, I heard the storekeeper's wife, Maria, muttering to herself in Italian:

"Look who wants fresh lobsters! All winter he spends his money in the city, then in the summer he comes down here, puts on a fancy shirt and expects everybody to jump. A shark should bite off both his legs!" "These'll do fine," said the actor. "Wrap 'em up."

"Thank you," said the old lady as she handed Spencer his change. "Come again." And then, in Italian: "May the jellyfish eat his eyes out."

"That's a friendly old dame," said the actor as we walked to the delicatessen counter to get Eleanor. "As a matter of fact, everybody's friendly once you get away from New York."

"Is that so?" I said. "Would you like to know what the friendly old dame was saying about you in her mother tongue? I know, because I learned a little bad Italian as a kid on the East Side."

"What did she say about me?" I told him and, for good measure, added a few embellishments of my own.

"Thanks," said the hot-up thespian. "One question: Is her husband as stingy as everyone says he is?"

"Stingier," I said. "Excellent," said Spencer. "I recently saw a play in which a tightwad's wife got her come-uppance, and I think I can fix it so Mrs. Padulla never again walked in and bought a pound of weakfish and, as usual, Mrs. Padulla kept smiling at him in English and cussing him out in Italian. Then, suddenly, as if she thought of something, she stopped muttering.

"Parla Italiana?" she asked him. "You speak Italian?"

"Pasta fazzola," said the actor, and I don't think he ever read a line better in his life.

"Do you think the old dame has learned her lesson?" I asked Eleanor.

"I'm sure of it," I said. "By the way," I said, "which do you think is more dangerous, an actor or a hooded cobra?" "Ask Mrs. Padulla," said Eleanor. "But while we're on the subject, I think we ought to invite Mr. Spencer to dinner some night. Otherwise, he might think we were snubbing him and get mad at us."

Agitation Is Art
Moscow, (AP)—Agitation, "Pravda" says is an art. "The ideological level of Bolshevik agitation," said "Pravda," "is being continually raised." "But," it added, "it is not in the Bolshevik tradition to rest on past achievements. New problems demand further improvement in political agitation, demands an increased sense of responsibility and better qualifications in agitators."

"It is not only, however, a matter of teaching the agitator to elucidate complex questions simply and understandably and to select for his talk the most instructive facts.

The art of agitation lies also in avoiding the commonplace and being able to approach different strata of the population differently."

Morgan K. Coutant, 3rd, of New Paltz Weds Helen Desole, Graduate of Teachers College

Miss Helen Eleanor Desole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Desole, 97 Maple avenue, Mount Kisco, became the bride of Morgan K. Coutant, 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Smith, 10 Excelsior avenue, New Paltz, Sunday at 2 p. m. in the rectory of St. Francis Church, Mount Kisco. The Rev. Father German officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The traditional wedding marches were played on the organ. Lilies were used for decorations. The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a frosted organza cocktail length gown made with off-shoulder neckline, puffed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was scalloped and attached to a crown of pearls. She wore organza mitts trimmed with lace and carried a cascade of orchids and baby's breath.

Miss Josephine Desole, sister of the bride, maid of honor wore a blue frosted organza gown with matching mitts and net bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses. Richard Stokes of New Paltz was best man.

A cocktail party and reception for friends and relatives was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Later a dinner for the immediate families was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Maureen Troy Is Airlines Stewardess

Miss Maureen Anne Troy of 184 Manor avenue received her silver wings as an American Airlines stewardess during graduation ceremonies Wednesday, July 6, at American's new stewardess training school at Chicago Municipal Airport.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Troy, Miss Troy attended Kingston High School, Skidmore College and received a B.A. degree as a science major at Bard College.

Miss Troy was one of 31 girls who were graduated after five weeks of instruction in such subjects as aerodynamics, navigation, food service and child care. Her class was the second to attend the Chicago training school which opened the first of May.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN R. WARREN

John R. Warren, Freeman Reporter, Marries Audria E. Stinger, Former Y.W. Director

The wedding of Miss Audria Elizabeth Stinger, 256 Smith avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernice A. Stinger, R.D. 1, York, Pa., to John R. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira V. D. Warren, 19 Len Court, took place Saturday, July 9, at 4 p. m. in the First Dutch Reformed Church. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Raymond H. Rignall was organist and played among the traditional wedding selections: Chanson du Soir and Benediction Nuptiale composed by Prof. J. Frank Frynsinger, organist at the bride's home church, First Presbyterian Church, York, Pa. Also included were Claire de Lune by Debussy, Jean Joy of Marie's Desiring, Bach; Through the Years, Youmans; Wherefore You Walk, Handel; Serenade, Schubert; Prelude to Lohengrin, Wagner. Before the ceremony, Miss Elizabeth Sherman sang in the Garden of Tomorrow and Ich Liebe Dich by Grieg. During the ceremony, John Rich sang "Maiden's Prayer." A setting of palms, white gladioli and lighted candles was arranged before the altar. White satin boys marked the pews.

Mr. Stinger gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white imported swiss organza fashioned with long, pointed sleeves, fitted bodice with eyelet embroidery, high collar, full skirt trimmed with double bands of eyelet embroidery and wide pink satin sash. She also wore a white horsehair picture hat trimmed with pink, matching pink mitts and carried a nosegay of daisies tinted in matching pink and yellow rosebuds. The bridesmaids' ensembles were similar to the maid of honor's. They were Miss Isabelle L. Stinger, sister of the bride, York, Pa., in white over orchid with nosegay of orchid tinted daisies and yellow rosebuds; Mrs. Edward Hogentogler, cousin of the bride, Trenton, N. J., in white over yellow with nosegay of yellow daisies and pink rosebuds; Mrs. J. Edward Conrad, college roommate of the bride, Scranton, Pa., in white over aqua with nosegay of aqua tinted daisies and deep pink rosebuds. Their hats and mitts included the touch of color to match their gowns.

James T. Little of Hurley avenue was best man. Ushers were Robert Shullis of Dumont, N. J., Edward Hogentogler, cousin of the bride, Trenton, N. J., and Frank Warren, brother of the bridegroom, Len Court.

Following the wedding a reception for 100 guests was held at Ye Nieuw Dorp, Hurley. Mr. and Mrs. Warren left for a wedding trip to Maine and other New England states. She wore a blue check rayon worsted suit, Trusean straw hat and bag, blue and white shoes and white orchid corsage. They will live at 169 Manor avenue.

The bride is a graduate of William Penn Senior High School, York Junior College, York, Pa., and graduate cum laude of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn. For the past two years she was director of the teen-age program at the Y.W.C.A.

Mr. Warren is a graduate of Kingston High School. He attended Columbia University and is a reporter for The Kingston Daily Freeman. During World War 2 he served three and a half years in the Army Air Force, including more than a year with the Seventh Air Force in the Central Pacific Area. His father is managing editor of the Ulster County News and Kingston Leader.

Lower Prices Set For Fall Wardrobes With Skirts Higher
New York, July 11 (AP)—Prices will be lower and skirts higher next fall.

That was the main impression gathered today by more than 100 fashion editors gathered for the opening of the New York Dress Institute's 13th semi-annual press week, at which leading designers preview the next season's styles. Strictly cosmopolitan was the opening show of the week, a "round-the-world collection" designed by Tina Leser, whose prismatic and often revealing sportswear makes fashion headlines each season. Recently returned from a global honeymoon trip, the far-sighted Tina picked up a few style ideas in each country she visited.

Her wraparound "kimono coat" in vivid red fleece was, of course, inspired by Japan. Her copper embroidered evening skirts by India, her braided-trimmed tunic suits by France. And of course she added a liberal sprinkling of Japanese pajamas and exotic cocktail dresses which Tina tagged "Near East."

Christian Dior, the Frenchman accused as "father of the new look," intrigued the visiting editors with a handsome, swish and strictly French-looking group of styles, most predominant silhouette of which was the bloused-back suit. Most of his skirts are slim, sometimes slit and sometimes, equipped with floating panels to add motion and fullness to the sheath beneath.

Though he names his creations with such American titles as "Washington Square" and "Chevy Chase," the collection has a highly Parisian flavor. He shows velvet blouses with tweed suits, like bulky, belted jackets on casual rough wool suits, buttons back his coat lapels, and uses buttons with a lavish hand on practically everything.

Many untrimmed wool dressmaker suits are accompanied by small fur ascots and matching muffs about the size and shape of a sofa pillow.

SMART APPAREL FOR WOMEN AND MISS

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

POSSIBLE EXCEPTION TO RULE

Today's first question is: "Do the attendants' parents have to be invited to the wedding and the reception. Our reception has to be small and it seems unfair to include these whom we do not know very well and have to leave out other much closer friends."

Very definitely the parents of the bride and groom should be invited either to the church or the reception—not necessarily to both. But the parents of the ushers very well might be omitted if they are strangers to your parents and the wedding guests really must be limited.

"My Stepmother"

Dear Mrs. Post: I don't like the word stepmother, but I do very much like my stepmother. She's new. How shall I introduce her to people without calling her "my stepmother." I'm not going to call her "Mother" and the nickname "Mummy" is for her mother. I don't want to explain who she is.

Answer: Your manner and the accent of your voice can make "my stepmother" show your affection for her very plainly. Or, if you prefer, you can equally well say, "My Father's wife" with warmth and pride.

Curb Side for Man

Dear Mrs. Post: Please straighten out as to today's position on the sidewalk for a man who is walking with a lady. One sees men just as much on the inside as on the curb side and we wonder if the rule has been changed.

Answer: Again and again I have written in this column that it makes no difference whether the man is on the curb or the lady is on the curb, but it does make a difference whether or not she is on his right. The right side of a gentleman is the position of courtesy. The curb side is by comparison of little importance.

Answering Invitation by Telephone

Dear Mrs. Post: When sent an informal note of invitation, would it be permissible if more convenient to telephone an acceptance?

Answer: If the invitation is from someone you do not know very well, and you can be sure that your note will reach her promptly, you should write your answer. But if she is an intimate friend, or if there is doubt that your note will reach her promptly, it would be best to telephone.

Do you find it difficult to find the right words to say when phoning with friends? Or would you like to know how to introduce a stranger at a big party? You will find Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-17, helpful.

To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Cousin DAZZLE Says

Some women go out of their way to hunt a needle in a haystack! So they shouldn't cry and carry on when they prick their fingers.

The easiest way to thread a needle is to hold it against a white surface. Then eye and thread are easily visible. It works equally well for sewing machine needles.

You'll see a difference in whiteness when you soak your wash in Dazzle Bleach. I've bought Dazzle from my grocer for many years and nothing else without getting clothes so cleanly white without hard rubbing as Dazzle does. The label tells you how.

My grocer likes to sell Dazzle. Say the name and the friendly lady and white checker-board label kind of cheer him up. Make him think of sunshine even on a gloomy day.

Do rainy days raise hob with your kitchen linoleum... people tracking in mud and water? Just soak a mop in a bucket of Dazzle solution, run it over the floor, finishing with a clear rinse. Your floor'll stay clean and shining. Dazzle deodorizes the kitchen at the same time.

Everybody is born with the ability to do two things and do them well! Here they are:

(1) Speak well of your neighbor
(2) Think well of yourself!

West Berlin Loads Held Up by Reds

Berlin, July 11 (AP)—The Russians have choked off truck cargoes for West Berlin to four, an hour—96 a day—on the Helmsstedt Autobahn. All other highways to the city have been completely closed.

A report to the American military government that all trucks must be completely unloaded for inspection indicated that this figure might be further reduced. An average of 300 trucks a day had been travelling the Helmsstedt road lately.

There has been no explanation yet from the Soviet military government for the "little blockade." Russian border guards, said however, they were acting on telephoned orders from their highest headquarters in Germany.

One truck leaving the British zone with 10 tons of glass for Berlin took an hour to pass the Russian check-point because of the unloading and loading provision. In the meantime no other trucks were allowed to pass.

CANNED FISH MAKES EASY MEALS

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Canned fish cuts labor and stove heat, therefore belongs in the list of hot weather necessities.

Creole Fish Pie (8 to 4 servings)

One-third cup sliced onion, 1 1/4 cup green pepper strips, 1 tablespoon butter of fortified margarine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 No. 2 1/2 can (1 2/3 cups) tomatoes, 1 7-ounce can tuna fish

Saute onions and green pepper in butter or margarine for about 10 minutes until soft. Stir in flour; add tomatoes; cook for 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Drain fish; break into large pieces and place in bottom of greased shallow casserole. Cover with tomato mixture. Sprinkle with cornflake crumbs or buttered bread crumbs, garnish top with several of the cooked onion rings and pepper strips. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes until browned.

Have you ever tried serving canned tuna fish just as it comes from the can? It's a solid, meaty, high protein main course without any kitchen work attached. Arrange cold on round dish and garnish with thickly sliced tomatoes, tufts of watercress and quartered lemons.

HOME BUREAU

Fair Products

Ulster county homemakers who plan to enter canned goods in the Ulster county fair may exhibit them in either quart or pint jars according to the superintendent of the Home Department, Mrs. William Powers of Kingston. They must be exhibited in jars of white glass.

Jams and jellies may be exhibited in any containers suitable for home storage. Canned goods must have been canned within one year and no jar may be entered in more than one class. Single jar entries may consist of vegetables such as asparagus, beets, carrots, corn, green or wax beans, shelled or lima beans, tomatoes, tomato juice and peas.

Any kind of canned meat may be exhibited. Fruits included on the list are cherries, peaches, pears, plums, raspberries, strawberries, blackberries, huckleberries and rhubarb. Any kind of pickles may be entered in one class and chili sauce in another. Strawberry, raspberry and blackberry jam may be exhibited and curran, raspberry and curran, apple and grape jellies may be entered. The special preserve class will invite women who make some peach specialties such as peach marmalade, peach jam, pickled peaches, etc.

Baked Goods

Baked goods must be submitted on flat pieces of cardboard. Layer cakes should be two layers only. Included in the list of cakes are angel loaf, cocoanut, chocolate layer (white cake with chocolate frosting), solid chocolate with either chocolate or white icing, solid chocolate loaf, spice loaf, sponge loaf, molasses or gingerbread loaf.

The cookie list includes molasses, sugar, brownies or any kind of special cookies such as filled cookies, fruit and nut cookies, etc. Women may enter two crust apple pie or two crust fruit pie other than apple such as berry, rhubarb, etc.

Yeast bread and rolls may be entered. Entries in these classes should be sent to the Home Bureau Office accompanied by the necessary fees by August 12. Preliminary lists are available upon request.

Office is Closed

The Home Bureau office, 280 Wall street, will be closed for two weeks from today, July 11, until Monday, July 25.

Midshipman William, J. O'Donnell took off and landed his SNJ "Texan" trainer six successive times recently aboard the U.S.S. Cabot, cruising in the Gulf of Mexico, to qualify in aircraft carrier qualifications.

O'Donnell, son of Mrs. Margaret O'Donnell, 336 Foxhall avenue, graduated from Hunter-Tannersville-Central School in June 1946. While in high school he played basketball, baseball and was a member of the varsity track team.

He entered the Navy V-5 program in July 1946 and attended Hartwick College to obtain the requisites needed for service as an officer.

He reported to Pensacola, Fla., "The Annapolis of the Air," in April 1948 for a schedule of military, academic, physical and flight training.

From Pensacola he will go to advanced training for a four month syllabus in fighter type aircraft. Graduation from advanced training will win him the coveted Navy wings of gold.

He will then report to a fleet unit to assume flying duties with the United States Navy.

Chlordane Keeps Dogs Free of Fleas and Lice

Of special interest to dog lovers is the news that their pets can now enjoy the pleasures of a world free from ticks, fleas and lice.

This is made possible by the use of a special form of the long-awaited chemical, chlordane, which has been made available in practical form by a major pharmaceutical company, according to George Svirsky of the United Pharmacy on Wall street.

Svirsky said the manufacturer claims the preparation not only kills parasites but it also repels the pests for a considerable time after use. It also removes animal odors, he said.

The preparation, which is easily applied, represents another advance in the war on disease, since ticks, fleas and lice are responsible for the spread of many ailments such as the plague, Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, tularemia and typhus.

Because of the tremendous interest created by the above news item — we were unable to supply the demand. We are happy to announce that adequate supplies are now on hand.

Bagatelles:
This is the time of the year when National League partisans try to explain the American League's 11-4 lead in All-Star competition as a sports phenomenon that doesn't even remotely evaluate the relative strength of the two leagues. However, they still pay off on the American.

Pietsem and Jetsam:
The Third District American Legion baseball tournament will be held at Hawkins Stadium, Albany, on July 13-15-16, according to a note from Dick Connors, district baseball chairman. George Shively is backing the Kingston American Legion squad, as usual. Jim Hardy, the amateur middleweight knockout artist from the Berkshire school at Canaan, kayaked an old local favorite, Ernie Keith, of Buffalo, before 500 fans in Hudson this week. Because of disorderly conduct shown by spectators at games in Quebec and Three Rivers, Canada, the Canadian-American League president has fined these cities $50 each. It was alright to defeat the tires of the umpires' car but when the fans threw stones, beer cans and seat cushions at opposing players that was just too much. Tony Mack, the Newburgh bowling wizard, stepped off in Kingston a few nights ago and rolled off 30 perfect frames and 600.

Wesley F. "Bo" Gill, the Newburgh sulky expert, is eligible for the World-Telegram Hole-In-One play as the result of a recent ace. (Special note).

The Moose Must Be Pretty:
Moose Krause—all six feet four and 260 pounds of him—squeals reports that he is to give up basketball coaching to devote full time to being Notre Dame's athletic director. This will come as good news to many, including the mother of one Notre Dame undergraduate. After watching Notre Dame edge New York University at Madison Square Garden this spring, she wrote her son: "I saw your team play, and I just loved your coach, Moose Krause. . . . The first tangible result of the heat wave in Coughlin Field. Whitey still has a good curve ball that he keeps low and all the pitching savvy a man can acquire. Whether he can get by in the Colonial loop is something else again. Carlos Bernier, the Bristol centerfield slash, plays with Mayaguez in the Puerto Rican Winter League. The club expects to have Luke Easter, San Diego slugger owned by the Indians and shortstop Artie Wilson of Oakland on the roster. There are some pretty good hitting pitchers in the Colonial circuit. There's Danny Bourke 421 and Red Tellefsen 364 of Kingston; Hamilton Graham 313; Guy Coleman (.874) of Belmont; Frank Picarelli (.869) of Stamford; and Fritz Luciano (.868) of Bridgeport.

Our own "Sluggo Don" Koopman grabbed the R.B.I. lead for the Colonial Merchants with a two-run single Friday night against Jones Dairy.

Bilateral Quote of the Week: Al Hirschberg of Boston writing in this month's "Sport" about Joe McCarthy, whom he apparently doesn't love and claims is an overrated manager: "A sour disillusioned man (McCarthy) he looks at the world with the jaundiced eye of a concert violinist about to change a flat tire."

DiMag May Start In All-Star Game

Brooklyn, July 11 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio may be in the starting lineup tomorrow when the American League's star-studded array faces the National League's best in the 16th annual all-star game at Ebbets Field.

The way was paved for DiMaggio's appearance as a starter when Tommy Henrich, his New York Yankee outfield teammate, and No. 1 choice for the starting right field berth, said he did not think he would be fit to play. Henrich suffered a knee injury a week ago and has been out of the lineup since.

"I'd give anything to be able to play in the all-star game," Tommy said in a telephone conversation. "But I don't think I'll be able to make it. It still hurts when I try to swing a bat."

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Americans has given no indication as to who will take Henrich's place, but it would come as no surprise to see Joltin' Joe patrol the right field sector at game time. (12:30 p. m., E.S.T.).

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Let Opponent Take Lead to Win Here

BY WILLIAM E. McKenney

Written for NEA Service

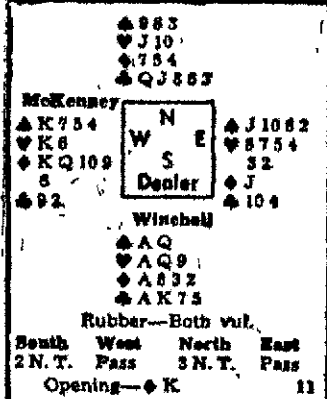

What an interesting evening of bridge I had the other night! It was with Paul Winchell, and he had Jerry Mahoney sitting on his knee. I asked Paul how he happened to become a ventriloquist and how Jerry was created. He said that he attended the School of Industrial Arts in New York and majored in sculpture. The pupils were allowed to take their work home at the end of the year, and Paul, who had made Jerry, took him home and put him in a drawer.

Remember, that Jerry kept chatting also throughout the conversation. It was Jerry who told me that Paul forgot him for a year, until one day Paul read an add in a magazine offering a book on ventriloquism for 10 cents. Jerry said, "When the book came, they told him to send 25 cents for an advanced course."

advanced course," said Paul. There was a request to send a dollar for the super-edition. "But that one was leather-bound," said Jerry. Now Paul and Jerry are television stars.

After listening to Winchell manipulate this dummy for a half hour, you begin to look on Jerry as a real person. Jerry was a kibitzer when today's hand came up. Paul refused to win the opening lead of the king of diamonds, but when I continued with the queen, he won it with the ace.

He cashed the ace and king of clubs, and when he started to lead another club, Jerry said, "No! Throw McKenney in with a diamond."

mond. All he can do is to cash three more diamond tricks, then he will have to lead either a heart or a spade to you. You don't want to look like a dummy and let that guy McKenney set you, do you?"

Look the hand over and you will find that Jerry was right.

Protests to Reds

Berlin, July 11 (AP)—Major General George F. Hays, U. S. deputy military governor has sent a letter to Soviet Lieutenant General Mikhail I. Dravitsky protesting a border incident last Friday in which a Russian soldier was killed by American fire. The U. S. Army claimed one of its patrols was twice fired on by Russian troops who entered the U. S. zone illegally and the Americans shot back in self defense. The text of General Hays' protest, which was dispatched yesterday, was not released.

The red wolf has recently been exterminated in the American southeast.

Truman Message

try (B) A small net loss in federal revenue, in place of the thumping boost in corporation rates and income taxes which the President asked in his January economic message and for which he spoke again only a month ago.

Calls Stand Tolly

"The President flailed at legislators who insist on government economy to the point of cutting essential national programs like defense and foreign aid. 'Nothing could upset greater economic tolly,' he said.

"If we tried to avoid a budget deficit by cutting essential expenditures, we would contribute to lower national output and lower employment, federal receipts would fall further, and the burden upon federal expenditures would increase.

"We cannot expect to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy.

"There are economic and social dangers that would be far more serious than a temporary deficit in the federal budget."

Mr. Truman urged businessmen to lower prices where possible, to keep sales and production high. But don't cut wages in order to reduce prices, he advised, that cripples the worker's buying power and everyone gets hurt.

Important Requests

These were his requests to Congress—they are of vital importance," he said.

1. Shun any major tax boost. Repeal the transportation tax, except on passengers, liberalize the carry-over or losses by corporations. Raise estate and gift levies.

2. Lengthen the time limit for repayment of loans made to business by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

3. Launch a study of the investment and development needed for an expansion of the economy.

4. Adopt "an improved program" of farm income supports (Congress is badly split on the farm program, House Democrats will voice a stand tomorrow).

5. Raise the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to at least 75. Broaden its coverage (Such legislation is still in committee on Capitol Hill).

6. Bring more industries under unemployment compensation (Congress is badly split on the unemployment program, House Democrats will voice a stand tomorrow).

7. Extend for one year—to July 25, 1950—the veterans' readjustment allowances, or so-called "52-20" program. This program got its nickname from the provision for unemployment pay to veterans at the rate of $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks.

8. Raise social security benefits. Extend coverage to more persons. Increase direct public grants (A social security bill may come from the House Ways and Means Committee in about a week).

9. Let federal agencies speed the advance planning of federal works and acquire sites. Help states and localities to do the same.

10. Provide technical aid to develop the world's backward areas and encourage foreign investment.

11. Restore the reciprocal trade agreements act to bolster world commerce (The House has passed such a bill, a Senate fight awaits).

The President bade businessmen, workers and farmers and Congress members to heed this advice.

Must Plan Prosperity

"We cannot have prosperity by getting adjusted to the idea of a depression — by cutting investment or employment or wages or essential government programs.

"We can be prosperous only by planning and working for prosperity, by increasing private investment, production employment and purchasing power, and by carrying forward essential government programs."

Mr. Truman pledged every effort to economize and to restore a budget balance "at the earliest possible time." As one of the most insistent past advocates of a balance and of national debt reduction, he blamed today's red ink on the "untimely" tax cut voted by the Republican 80th Congress. Another mistake, he said, was the failure to give him the anti-inflation powers, he sought. Their absence helped to produce the present dangers, he said. The President's Economic Council, in its survey on which Mr. Truman based his message, concurred that this is not the time to hike taxes or, on the other hand, to drastically diminish the flow of federal dollars. It said:

"The appearance of a government deficit will have to be accepted."

The President emphasized that no signs indicate a depression like that of the 1930s. He said sane business policies now prevail and said there are now many safeguards to cushion a recession.

Some more of his findings. Production in first half 1949 dipped only 1 1/4 per cent from the record level of last half 1948. Real earnings were maintained, bank deposits and money supply dipped two per cent. Personal income of consumers edged down one per cent. Consumer spending dropped three per cent. The rate of saving rose.

Jobs Are Scarce
"Employment (averaging 58,000,000) is still high, but unemployment has been increasing and veterans and others leaving school are finding it much harder to obtain work than a year ago," the message said.

"Production is still high, but it is lower, particularly in some industries, than it was last year. Business investment is at a high rate, but plans for new investments are being made with caution."

The 1949 decline has been moderate, and the opportunity now ours to reverse the trend and achieve maximum production and consumption of goods and services without the evils of inflation."

Some industries now will have difficulty expanding, the President conceded. But the government can always take conscious and positive action. "This need not be crisis action, he emphasized.

"Unemployment has not risen to the dangerous levels which would call for all-out emergency measures. . . . The economic situation does not call for an immediate and sweeping expansion of public works."

In one keynote passage the President declared: "The life and spirit of the American economy is progress and expansion."

"We need to use the productive capacity of a growing labor force. We need to translate the improved productivity and managerial skills into constantly increasing output."

"We can achieve within a few years a national output well above $300,000,000,000, valued at current prices."

"To restrict business investment, curtail production, reduce employment or slash wages, because our economy has declined somewhat, would only serve to drag us further downward."

"It is vitally important that government policy be based upon the determination to achieve a constantly growing economy."

Depending On U. S.
"Our friends abroad know that their well-being and hopes for world peace are greatly dependent upon the economic strength of the United States."

In general, the message was calculated to reassure business. Nowhere was there mention of the array of anti-inflation powers which Mr. Truman demanded of Congress in his January report—demands which Congress has largely ignored.

Now dead for certain, they included standby price and wage control authority, allocation of bank credit controls and installment-plan buying curbs, regulation of grain and other commodity exchanges to curb inflation. Neither was there mention of the government building industrial plants when private capital fails to do so.

On the other hand, the President went nowhere near as far in the way of Federal pump-priming as, for instance, the proposals of Senator Murray (D-Mont.) and

Third Communist Purge

Scout, July 11 (AP)—A former first lieutenant of the North Korean army said today the Communist controlled northern army is going through its third major purge. The lieutenant of cavalry, who surrendered to the South Korean Republic Army, said he assumed suspected anti-Communists would be sent to Russia as laborers. He said he believed this was done with officers purged on Aug. 17 last year and with enlisted men purged on Jan. 5 of this year.

Didn't Even Look

New York, July 11 (AP)—Judith Coplon and Valentin A. Gubichev met in a federal courtroom today, but they did not look at each other. The purpose was for argument of motions in the espionage conspiracy trial of the two. Federal Judge William Bondy set the opening trial date for Oct. 17.

Gen. Young Dies
Phoenix, Arizona, July 11 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Barton K. Young (Ret.), president of the American Institute for foreign trade, died today at Oak Creek Lodge, north of here. General Young, wartime commanding general of the U. S. Army Air Forces Training Command, died unexpectedly while on vacation. He was 66.

Two Republicans doesn't know enough about court practice, and didn't follow the Illinois trial closely enough to get mixed up in the issue of an inquiry.

In New York, Kaufman said his only purpose had been to see there was a fair trial and "The record of the trial speaks for itself."

Robert P. Patterson, former secretary of war and formerly a federal judge, got out a statement saying he considered Kaufman's rulings and charge to the jury eminently fair.

"It would be a blow to the independence of the judiciary," Patterson said, "and to the sound administration of justice if a judge were to be investigated by a committee of Congress whenever the committee didn't like the ruling made by the judge or did not agree with the outcome of the case tried by him."

Name Their Points

Nixon picked out several points at which he said Kaufman favored the defense. Velde listed an even half dozen.

Velde accused the judge of an "unwarranted perversion of the testimony," which hurt the prosecution, when Kaufman stated in court that Chambers had testified to using the name Crosey. Ills has said he knew Chambers only as George Crosey and Chambers has insisted Ills knew him only as Carl, with no last name.

Velde said Kaufman let Ills' lawyer address "perhaps the most remarkable question in legal history" to a psychiatrist hired by Ills to observe Chambers. It amounted Velde said, to "an illegal mid-trial summation."

Then, he said, the judge ruled formally that the psychiatrist could not testify and the question should be erased from the record.

Velde said the judge showed "obvious bias" in allowing questions about a suicide in Chambers' family but not about two suicides in Ills' family.

He said Kaufman declined to substitute an alternate for the jury foreman after receiving reports twice in the early days of the trial that the wife of the foreman had said her husband believed Ills innocent and would try to swing the jury. The foreman was one of the four who stood fast for acquittal.

Furthermore, Velde said, the judge showed one example of "gross impropriety" in shaking hands with Supreme Court Justices Frankfurter and Reed when they appeared as character witnesses for Ills.

other sponsors of the "Economic Expansion Act of 1949," soon to be introduced. Murray's plans for Federal intervention, some advisers have told Mr. Truman, are so broad as perhaps to frighten business.

Both Sides Agree

Honolulu, July 11 (AP)—Both sides in Hawaii's 72-day-old dock strike agreed today that: 1. The crippling tieup will go on another two or three months—unless the federal government steps in. 2. Each day the strike continues, it builds up emotional friction for a blowoff that would end the absence of serious violence to date. ALWAYS WHITE...ALWAYS BRIGHT...

no more clinging dirt or grime

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT

CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful . . . protects against rust, rot, and decay . . . gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!
